Gen. Weaver Refused a Hearing in Georgia.

He Issues an Address to the People of the Country-He Withdraws From a Personal Canvass of Georgia. -Political Notes.

Weaver in Georgia. The Chicago Inter Ocean's Washington correspondent has this to say of the treatment of Gen. Weaver in Georgia: "The taste of southern election methods while in an orderly and decorous manthe populists to the people, have aroused red-hot indignation at alliance headquarters here. Mr. Weaver's address to the American people from Atlanta, Ga., and his reference to the 'howling mobs' which 'refused to ac-cord him a respectful and uninterand to the 'young rupted hearing," roughs incited to violence by those who kept in the background," was issued after full consultation by wire with friends here.

"As a result, it is now authoritatively stated that the third party in all the der existing election laws for the appointment of federal supervisors of elec-tions in every district where third party candidates have been placed in the field. The provisions of law which will enable them to do this are not of recent enactment. They have been on the statute books since 1870, with some slight modlifications adopted in 1871 and 1872. This action, proceeding from a party com-posed almost exclusively of white men who have heretofore voted the demoeratic ticket, cannot but have a significant bearing on the elections in the southern states. In Alabama, for instance, where Kolb democrats have been placed in nomination by the third party men, in every district save one, the result will be to bring the entire state election under federal supervision and, almost beyond a peradventure, to take Alabama out of the Cleveland column It begins to look as if the New York Sun's bugaboo, 'no force bill,' would be turned clear around and adopted as part of their party platform and as omething to be desired and asked for

ATLANYA, Ga. Sept. 23.—To Mr. R. D. Irwin, Chairman State Central Committees People's Party, Atlanta, Ga. Dear Sir. At the urgent request of your committee I entered this state on the 3th instant for the purpose of addressing the people of Georgia upon the political situation and the issues involved in the present national campulgn. The places named for said meetings were: Wayeross, Albany, Columbus Macou. Atlanta, Madison, Augusta and Elberton. I find the spirit of organized reweights at some of the points visited within the state so great as to render it insalvisable for me to attempt to fill the engagements at the points not already reached. Personal indignity was threatened at Wayeross, but was suppressed by already reached. Personal indignity was threatened at Wayeroes, but was suppressed by the attendance of a large number of our friends and the careful management of Mr. Reed, the local chairman. At Alleany we met a howling mob, which refused to accord us a respectful and uninterrupted hearing. Our meeting at Columbus was a grand soccess, thanks to the superior management of Mr. C. J. Thornton. About 2,00 people attended this meeting and gave as respectful and enthusiastic attention. At Macon the conduct of the mob which greeted our advent into that city was simply disgraceful beyond description. Rotten eggs were thrown prior to the introduction of the speakers, one of which struck Mrs. Weaver on the head Eggs were thrown repeatedly during the continuance of

At Atlanta a similar crowd of rowdles gathered at the point of meeting, bent on turnult and disorder, water works, gas plants, etc. point of meeting, bent on tumult and disorder. Learning of this Mrs. Lease and myself refused Learning of this Mrs. Lease and myself refused to appear either in the foremon or in the evening. I am convenied that similar treatment awaits us at the points not visited. I decline to meet such appointments. The members of our party, although apparently largely in the majority in the state, are mable to secure for us a peaceful and respectful hearing. I wish to call especial attention to the fact that the disorder is almost exclusively confined to young roughs who infest the towns and who are included to violence by persons who keep in the cited to violence by persons who keep in th background. The country people are uniformly respectful and anxious to hear. It is especially respectful and antions to hear. It is especially worthy of note that the disorderly conduct does not proceed from the confederate soldiers, who are manly almost without exception in their conduct and generally in sympathy with our movement. The police force at the disor-derly points named made no effort, so far as is our movements and the make no effort, so far as is known, to preserve goed order. In sugge in a stance, they gave open countenance to fine themsil. I think it is but fair to say that many good people who are not in sympathy with the people a party openly denounce these outraces, but they seem powerless to assert themselves. The major of Wayerose made every effort to protect our meeting at that point.

J. B. WEAVER.

That Georgia Affair. Chairman Taubeneck, of the people's party national committee, when asked if the Georgia campaign would be aban-doned since Gen. Weaver's treatment in that state said: "As a matter of speak-orators will be prevented from speak-ing in that state, but the roughs and showed they will have a plurality of 17,000 totes for Weaver electors out of and notwithstanding the treatment of our leaders in that state, I am as confident as ever that at the November election, if we are given a fair count, which the federal supervisors will be compelled to give us, we will carry Georgia in spite of the hoodlums who have in-suited our candidate for president and assaulted his esteemed wife. The reaction will come on the 8th of November, and I am positive that Weaver will the state, if not by a majority, a

. Hard Hits.

A few evenings since an enthusiastic neeting of populists was held at Omaha, which was addressed by J. B. Romine, a noted people's party orator, who roasted the real "calamity howlers" in true style. He spent a few minutes in showing up the inconsistency of the republican tariff taffy, which the emissaries of the banks are trying to fool the people with. He cited how the republican speakers argued that the tariff raised the prices of articles and in the next breath declared that the tariff lowered the prices. Mr. Romine ob-served that if the raising of the tariff lowered the price of the goods, he wished which has been visited upon Gen. to know how high it was necessary to Weaver, the third party candidate, in raise the tariff until we got the goods Georgia, where he and his wife, as well for nothing. In speaking of Whitelaw as Mrs. Lease, have been most outrag-eously assaulted and rotten-egged of the story about a man who persisted In taking a big dose of cod liver oil every reserving to present the principles of the populists to the people, have said it wasn't because he liked it, but because he wanted to see how much his stomach could stand. Mr. Romine re-marked that the workingman who could stomach Whitelaw Reid must have a most powerful digestive organ. In reviewing the financial legislation of the past thirty years, among other things, the speaker referred to the exception clause which has been placed on the new treasury notes of the series of 1890, which reads: "This note is a legal tender at its face value in payment of all debts, public and private, except when southern states will make a formal call otherwise expressly stipulated in the upon the United States authorities uncontract." Mr. Romine said that the money syndicate were making their farm mortgages, etc., payable in so many ounces of "gold," and that at the proper time they would lock their gold up and by this exception clause drive it to a great premium, and enable them to swallow up the farms and homes of our people and inaugurate the accursed system of landlord and tenant, which they have been so successful in doing across the sea. Mr. Romine warned his hearers against returning despotism, and declared that the money lords were afraid of the people, and to hold their ill-gotten gains desired a king and a standing army to stand between them and the outraged people. He closed with an account of the progress of the people's party, and claimed more states for Gen.

The platform indorses the tieket and platform of the people's party; invites the co-operation of all citizens in common, irrespective of sex; condemns the massing of wealth in the hands of a few; denounces the burdening of the people with taxation and monopolies, and demands its abolition on the comforts and necessaries of life; demands state ownership of railroads of all kinds; protection for state dairy interests: against impure food products: declares for shorter hours of labor; demands the abolishment of the saloon, and declares for woman suf-

Dr. Exum, populist candidate for gov-ernor of North Carolina, makes this estimate on the vote of that state: People's party, 105,000; republicans, 95,000; mocrats between 70,000 and 80,000. He believes that the majority of the people's nominees for the legislature and congress will be elected.

ABOUT TEA DRINKING.

An Expert Says There is No Good Tea in

A few words of advice to ten drinkers ay not be malapropos.
When I left the United States I was considered a fair judge of tea. Now, after having visited Ceylon, Formosa and the Amoy district I find I knew nothing of ten

We Americans don't know the first cinciples of making tea. The delicate leaf should never touch metal. It should be kept in paper, wood, glass or porcelan. To make it, put a small quantity in a porcelain cup, fill the latter with boiling water, cover it up with a porcelain saucer and let it stand three minutes.

Then, if you desire to be an epicure drink only the upper layer of the golden liquor, throw the rest away, rinse the cup, and begin drawing de Never use sugar any more than you would sweeten Chambertin or pour molasses into Mumm's extra dry not use milk. It ruins the flavor of tea and the combination injures the stomach. The cloudiness produced by adding milk to tea arises from the action of the tannin upon the casein, and is, chemically speaking, pure

Above all things, do not boil tea, says Edward Bedloe, United States consul at Amoy, China. The heat drives off the perfame, spoils the flavor and extracts the taunin, the astringent principle. If the boiling be done in a tin or iron pot the tannin attacks the metal and makes the liquid black This fluid is simply diluted ink.

Never let the tea stand except in a tightly-closed porcelain pot. Standing hanges it from a delicious, wholesome beverage into an ill-tasting and bitter liquor. Better make it in small quantitles and make it often. In summer, when you want to cool off quickly, sip the tea boiling hot, with a slice of previously peeled lemon, or nicer still, of orange without the rind, floating in it. In winter, especially when you have a cold and require a sudorific, add a wineglassful of arrack to it and drink it down as hot as you can stand it. It will bring out a profuse perspiration when punch or hot Scotch falls to thaw you out.

Beware of green ten! It is an about ination and a fraud. In the first place, it is the unripe leaf, and bears the same relation to the real article that the green does to the ripe peach. The green tea of commerce derives its rare color from being cured, or rather killed, on dirty copper pans, from being trixed with weeds and shrubs, from being stained with indigo and chrome yellow, from being colored with verdigris, grass juice, chlorophyl. Every green dye known to commerce has been used to produce that much admired but death-dealing color, except it may be paris green. As soon as the use of that poisonous substance will give a profit of a cent a pound, no doubt it will be liberally used by the mercenary Mongolian merchant and the much more mer cenary, cultured European tea trader.

I will venture the statement that there is no fine tea in the United States. What goes to our country is the cheap stuff used here by the coolles and jail

When an American housekeeper pays me dollar per pound for her Oolong or English breakfast, she is buying what is sold here for twenty-five cents. No really good tea is sold here for less than one dollar per pound by the wholesale. If laid down in the market at home it could not be sold for less than one dollar and seventy-five cents.-Goldthwaite's Magazine.
